

“Let’s design together” the green area of Giambellino 129 Street – perceptions and involvement

INTRODUCTION. Thank you for having chosen to participate in CLEVER Milano 2020 survey, foreseen within the European CLEVER Cities project, in collaboration with the MILO.Lab Laboratory (AdP Lorenteggio).

You will answer questions concerning the Giambellino Lorenteggio district and the urban green areas. The survey is completely anonymous and no personal data will be collected.

The survey is divided into three parts:

- the first section, called "PERSONAL DATA", aims to collect non-sensitive information relating to the compiler user
- the second section, called "BASELINE", edited by the Eliante Cooperative and POLIMI, the entities who are in charge of data processing, aims to collect information on the quality of living in the neighborhood and on people's relationship with greenery in the city
- the third section, called "PARTICIPATIVE PATH", curated by MILO.lab, Lorenteggio Social Laboratory, aims to collect useful information for evaluating the path which has been taken and for setting up future participatory activities.

How to fill in the survey?

1. Most questions can be answered by placing a single cross in the box, or by writing down the answer.
2. Fill in all the questions.
3. You will need about 15-20 minutes to fill in the survey.

Once processed, the data related to "BASELINE" will be available on this site: <https://milanoclever.net>

If you want to stay informed about the project, you can visit the site www.milolab.org and <https://milanoclever.net/partecipa/>

If you are interested in our activities, we invite you to follow the project by subscribing to the Clever Cities Milan mailing list: <https://mailchi.mp/82648a63663c/clevermailinglist>
