Message from the Guest Editors

In this Special Issue, we invite submission in the particular area of security applications of biometrics, including identification and authentication applications based on established (face, fingerprint, iris, handwritten signature, etc.) and novel biometrics (touch interaction with screens, keystroking, etc.). Novel contributions and advances in the security aspects of biometric applications are expected, including (but not limited to):

- Security and privacy in biometric systems;
- Biometrics in the cloud;
- Distributed biometrics, including biometrics in Distributed Ledger systems;
- Federated learning in biometric systems;
- Attacks and countermeasures against biometric systems, including Presentation Attack Detection;
- Robust biometric systems intrinsically robust against potential attacks;
- Measuring and evaluating the security and privacy of biometric systems;
- Explainability in biometric systems, including human-readable explanations of the decision-making processes and vulnerabilities of biometric systems.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the world of science becomes ever more specialized, researchers may lose themselves in the deep forest of the ever increasing number of subfields being created. This open access journal Applied Sciences has been started to link these subfields, so researchers can cut through the forest and see the surrounding, or quite distant fields and subfields to help develop his/her own research even further with the aid of this multi-dimensional network.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), Inspec, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q2 (Engineering, Multidisciplinary) / CiteScore - Q1 (General Engineering)
