

Special Issue on Economic Forecasting

Guest Editors:

Prof. Dr. Martin Wagner

Department of Economics,
University of Klagenfurt, 9020
Klagenfurt, Austria

Prof. Dr. Robert Kunst

1. Department of Economics,
University of Vienna, Austria
2. Institute for Advanced Studies,
Vienna, Austria

Deadline for manuscript
submissions:

closed (31 December 2021)

Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

The special volume is dedicated—first and foremost, but not exclusively—to providing a publication outlet for papers presented at the 2nd Vienna Workshop on Economic Forecasting. This workshop and a fortiori the Special Issue aim at providing a forum for exchanging ideas and discussing recent results and developments in forecasting. Both theoretical as well as applied contributions are welcome, as are contributions utilizing different approaches to economic forecasting, including forecasts based on time series models, DSGE models, large scale structural models or forecasting using microeconomic data. Forecast evaluation is another topic of interest.

Prof. Dr. Martin Wagner

Prof. Dr. Robert Kunst

Guest Editors

