Message from the Guest Editors

The purpose of this Special Issue is to explore the role of the smartphone in teaching, learning, and educational research within the framework of learning theory. We are seeking scholarly reviews or research related to smartphones and learning. We invite scholarly articles that explore from a learning theory perspective:

- Implications for learning in the content areas (e.g., mathematics, languages, social sciences, physical science, health education, and others);
- Mobile and distance learning (including opportunities for a rapid response necessitated by a global pandemic);
- Mobile-assisted language learning (MALL);
- Technical advances and affordances such as augmented and virtual reality;
- Use in informal learning environments.
