Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

This Special Issue invites research to characterize bioactive compounds in coffee and its byproducts and to explore their potential applications for the food industry. Papers may focus on the development of novel methods for coffee analysis, either identifying specific bioactive components or determining their effect on the resulting antioxidant properties. Other interesting aspects include the effect of novel processing or extraction techniques on byproducts' composition; assessment of the health-promoting properties of bioactive compounds found in coffee and its byproducts, including studies of bioavailability, bioaccessibility, and mechanisms of action; and the application of coffee byproducts or extracted substances directly on food or related products (active packaging, etc.). Submissions may either provide a review of the scientific literature or describe original research.

Foods (ISSN 2304-8158) is an open access and peer reviewed scientific journal that publishes original articles, critical reviews, case reports, and short communications on food science. Articles are released monthly online, with unlimited free access. Currently, Foods has been indexed by the Science Citation Index Expanded (SCIE - Web of Science), PubMed, and Scopus. Our aim is to encourage scientists, researchers, and other food professionals to publish their experimental and theoretical results as much detail as possible. We therefore invite you to be one of our authors, and in doing so share your important research findings with the global food science community.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges \(APC\) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE \(Web of Science\), PubMed, PMC, FSTA, AGRIS, PubAg, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Food Science & Technology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Health Professions (miscellaneous))
