Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

Animal experiments are essential to the understanding of different disease mechanisms, the discovery of new treatments, the diverse function of genes and the impact of epimutations and their mechanism.

We are pleased to invite you to submit a manuscript for our upcoming Special Issue on "Rodent Genetic Models for Human Diseases" in the Genes Journal, Section Molecular Genetics and Genomics. This Special Issue aims to provide a comprehensive overview of the latest research on the use of rodent genetic models in the study of human diseases.

For manuscript submissions and further details please contact the Special Issue Editor Robert Feurdean at feurdean@mdpi.com

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Genes are central to our understanding of biology, and modern advances such as genomics and genome editing have maintained genetics as a vibrant, diverse and fastmoving field. There is a need for good quality, open access journals in this area, and the Genes team aims to provide expert manuscript handling, serious peer review, and rapid publication across the whole discipline of genetics. Starting in 2010, the journal is now well established and recognised.

Why not consider Genes for your next genetics paper?

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, MEDLINE, PMC, Embase, PubAg, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q2 (Genetics & Heredity) / CiteScore - Q2 (Genetics)
