Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

We welcome submissions of original and review papers on molecular mechanisms involved in pathogenesis and treatment of those diseases to the Special Issue titled: “Psoriatic Arthritis and Skin Diseases: Pathogenesis and Therapies”. Clinical studies with biomolecular experiments as well as case reports/series with a molecular element are also invited. Our aim is to present current views and results of experiments to provide the readers with an overview of the state of the art in this topic.
