Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

Many patients die from cancer, but with the recent advent of immune checkpoint inhibitors, some patients have shown dramatic therapeutic effects.

Although the treatment of cancer has become complicated due to the emergence of immune checkpoint inhibitors, the prognosis of patients has been prolonged, and treatment is improving day by day. We have decided to launch a Special Issue at this time on “Advanced Research on Immune Checkpoint Inhibitor Therapy”.

This Special Issue will highlight and summarize the current knowledge concerning “Advanced Research on Immune Checkpoint Inhibitor Therapy”, covering both basic and (pre)clinical aspects. Potential studies may include assessment of “Advanced Research on Immune Checkpoint Inhibitor Therapy”. For this Special Issue, we invite investigators to contribute original articles as well as review articles that will describe and help in understanding the current and potential challenges surrounding this topic.

Message from the Editorial Board

There has been an explosion of gene and target based research and therapeutics in the multitude of fields that compose clinical medicine. The Journal of Clinical Medicine's (JCM) staff and editorial board are dedicated to providing cutting edge, timely, and peer-reviewed articles covering the diverse subspecialties of clinical medicine. The journal publishes concise, innovative, and exciting research articles as well as clinically significant articles and reviews that are pertinent to the myriad of disciplines within medicine. The articles published are relevant to both primary care physicians and specialists. The journal's full-texts are archived in PubMed Central and indexed in PubMed. Please consider submitting your manuscripts for publication to our journal and check us out on-line!

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, Embase, CAPus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q2 (Medicine, General & Internal) / CiteScore - Q1 (General Medicine)
