Message from the Guest Editors

In this special issue, dedicated to rheumatological diseases and nutrients, as diet, beverage and micronutrients, we aimed at collecting studies, narrative reviews or systematic literature reviews highlighting the key role of nutrients in the mosaic of autoimmunity demonstrating their potential role in both pathogenesis and management of rheumatological diseases. Nutrients may interfere with the microbiome, leading to an activation on the inflammatory pathways or they can directly modulate the immune signaling pathways, and in conjunction with conventional therapies, they can help in gaining a better clinical outcome.
