Message from the Guest Editors

Recent natural disasters caused by climate change have reinvigorated concerns regarding carbon mitigation. Thus, advances in combustion processes and carbon capture are becoming a hot issue, with the number of studies on these topics growing rapidly. Moreover, issues related to combustion analysis, as well as the applications of emerging combustors to promote carbon capture, need to be deeply elaborated upon. The Special Issue involves original research, reviews, and application papers. The topics cover but are not limited to: Strategies on Carbon Mitigation, Carbon Capture Technologies, Advanced Combustion Technologies, and Improvements in Combustion Analysis.

The related keywords on the above-mentioned topics are listed below:

- Strategies on Carbon Mitigation: Life Cycle Assessments of Carbon and the Circular Economy of Carbon.
- Carbon Capture Technologies: Chemical, Physical, and Biological Methods.
- Advanced Combustion Technologies: Oxy-fuel, IGCC.
- Improvements in Combustion Analysis: Fluidized Bed Reactors and Computational Fluid Dynamics.

Processes (ISSN 2227-9717) provides an advanced forum for process/system-related research in chemistry, biology, material, energy, environment, food, pharmaceutical, manufacturing and allied engineering fields. The journal publishes regular research papers, communications, letters, short notes and reviews. Our aim is to encourage researchers to publish their experimental, theoretical and computational results in as much detail as necessary. There is no restriction on paper length or number of figures and tables.
