The economic globalization of the recent decades has generated faster rhythms in cities' adaptation to novelty and consequently triggered customized urban restructuring and regeneration policies and practices.

This Special Issue focuses on cultural approaches in connection with urban development and aims for contributions from various research fields. The volume invites researchers and academics worldwide to publish their original research articles on the following themes, but not limited to these:

- Cultural activities and their role in urban development;
- Cities (re)constructing their identity, relying mainly on culture and heritage;
- Culture as a relevant component of current spatial planning policies;
- Urban strategies, attracting creative people;
- Urban image, heritage and culture;
- Culture, local memory and local identities;
- Heritage and industrial culture;
- Subcultures within cities and processes of urban change.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Societies (ISSN 2075-4698) is an interdisciplinary journal that brings together different scientific approaches to engage with societal questions to enhance our understanding of the social realm throughout history. The journal publishes original empirical research papers, literature reviews, and conceptual papers. Our aim is to publish papers that have a significant impact on addressing present and emerging societal questions. Therefore, we encourage researchers to publish their results in as much detail as possible. For empirical research papers and literature reviews, all experimental details must be provided, so that the results are reproducible. We also encourage the publication of timely theoretical pieces on topics of interest to existing and emerging societal questions. Papers are either published in the open journal or in Special Issues devoted to specific topics of interest to the field.
