Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

This Special Issue aims to bring together recent research on contaminant occurrence in alternative water supplies, mathematical modeling of predictive factors relating to contaminant occurrence and transport, and the potential health risks. We encourage submissions reporting findings on physical-chemical or microbiological testing of the alternative or decentralized water sources mentioned, as well as risk assessments for exposures via intentional potable and non-potable uses, as well as unintentional exposures. We especially welcome submissions that explore and prioritize driving factors in contaminant occurrence and risk.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

In the context of global changes, the sustainable management of water cycles, going from global and regional water cycles to urban, industrial and agricultural water cycles, plays a very important role on the water resources and on their relationships with food, energy, biodiversity, ecosystem functioning and human health. Water invites authors to provide innovative original full articles, critical reviews and timely short communications and to propose special issues devoted to new technological and scientific domains and to interdisciplinary approaches of the water cycles. We ensure a critical review process and a quick turnaround between submission and final decision.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), Ei Compendex, GEOBASE, GeoRef, PubAg, AGRIS, CAPlus / SciFinder, Inspec, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q2 (Water Resources) / CiteScore - Q1 (Water Science and Technology)
